REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Republican convention for the 20th Senatorial District was held at Macon yesterday. The convention was called to order by W. L. Chambers, Esq., of DeWitt, chairman of the district committee, who read the call.

On motion of J. M. Bower, of this county; A. A. Murray, Esq., of Macon county, was made temporary chairman, and Dr. Calhoun, of DeWitt, temporary secretary.

On motion, the chair appointed Messrs. Kanan, Jeffroy and Clokey, a committee on Credentials. The committee reported the following delegates present and entitled to seats in the convention:

Macon—A. A. Murray, M. F. Kanan, Martin Forstmyer, J. M. Clokey, David F. Barber, A. G. Bonton, J. H. Alexander, T. N. Leavitt and J. M. Bower.—9.

DeWitt—John Marsh, M. F. Calhoun, Dr. Ed. Porter, John Nelson, A. Jeffrey, and H. F. Byerly.—6.

The report was adopted and the committee discharged.

On motion of M. Forstmyer, the temporary officers were made the permanent officers of the convention.

Nominations for a candidate for Senator being in order, Mr. Clokey placed his nomination Kilburn H. Roby, Esq., of DeWitt. Mr. Leavitt nominated Hon. Job A. Race, of Macon. A ballot being taken Mr. Roby received nine votes and Mr. Race six votes. Mr. Roby was therupon declared the nominee of the convention for Senator.

The convention then proceeded to nominate two candidates for representative—Ephraim B. Harrold, Wm. Cotttingham and Dr. John H. Tyler, all of DeWitt, were placed in nomination, and a ballot being ordered resulted as follows:

Harrold, 14; Tyler, 13; Cotttingham, 2.

Mr. Harrold and Dr. Tyler were declared duly nominated.

A resolution complimenting the actions of our present senator, Hon. M. Douglass, and our two representatives, Hon. W. T. Moffett and Job A. Race, during the time of their service in the legislature, was introduced and unanimously adopted.

Mr. Race being called for came forward and addressed the convention, pledging to the ticket nominated his hearty support, and saying that he should labor as faithfully for its election as he would have done if he had been nominated.

Mr. Moffett was also called out, and in a brief speech gave his reasons for adhering to the Republican party. He spoke of the charge so frequently made by the new party, that the last legislature had done nothing in the way of railroad legislation, and called attention to the fact that the platform of that party specifically endorses and ratifies the railroad bill passed by the very body which it so persistently and unjustly condemns.

Mr. O'Donnell, of DeWitt, was called for, and responded in a brief speech, in which he spoke in the highest terms of the nominees for representative, both of whom are personally known to him.

The following District committee was then appointed:

Macon—J. M. Clokey, M. Forstmyer, J. C. Pugh.

DeWitt—M. F. Calhoun, W. W. Graham.

The convention then adjourned.

TRUTH, WELL STATED.
The address of the New York Republicans State Convention, written by Mr. Isaac H. Bailey, is one of the ablest and most readable political documents which has ever appeared in the United States. It deserves a wide circulation. We call especial attention to the following paragraphs:

GEN. GRANT'S ADMINISTRATION.
The administration of Gen. Grant deserves the hearty approval of all patriots. Its foreign policy has secured peaceful relations with all the powers of the earth, on conditions creditable alike to our sense of rectitude and our pride of country. Its domestic management has effected a great reduction of taxes, the payment of fifteen per cent. of the national debt, substantial appreciation of Government securities, and a decided advance toward specific payments. The national debt on March 1, 1869, was $2,525,463,260.01. July 1, 1874, $2,143,088,211,16, showing a decrease in five years of $882,375,018.85. In 1869 the annual interest on the debt was $126,289,550; in 1874 it was $88,796,094.44, showing a decrease in the yearly expenditures for that object of $27,593,545.56. In May, 1869, the Treasury purchased its own bonds of the sum of $100 for the sinking fund, at the rate of $2.72 100 gold. The market value of the same bonds in September, 1874, is $104, a rise of twenty-five and a half per cent. In March, 1869, gold was at a premium of thirty-two per cent., in September, 1874, nine and a half per cent. The appropriations of 1871 were reduced $20,000 and thus a further levy of taxation, in time of general embarrassment, was prudently averted.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The faith of the nation is irrevocably pledged to the redemption of the public debt in coin. That pledge was made anew by the people at the Presidential election of 1868. The Democratic National Convention of that year, held on the fourth of July, in Tammany Hall, in New York, declared for representatives, resides at Marion, DeWitt county, and is a practicing physician of character and standing.

He is an educated gentleman, and an active citizen, and those who know him best assert that he is exceptionally well qualified for the position.

The ticket is now complete, and there is no candidate upon it who is not worthy the support of every good citizen. Now let us go to work and elect the whole of it.

OUR LEGISLATIVE TICKET
The candidates nominated at Marion yesterday, for Senator and Representatives, are such men as are entitled to the entire confidence of the people. Kilburn H. Roby, Esq., the nominee for Senator, is well known to our citizens, having resided here for many years. As a well-read lawyer, and safe counsellor, he has no superior at the Decatur bar, and his opinion upon legal questions is considered, by his brother attorneys, equal to that of any in this section of Illinois. As a citizen he stands above reproach, and he would be a reckless man who could say aught against his character. In all the relations of life he is a model man, and every way worthy the esteem and confidence of the people. We have no word to speak against his opponent, except that he is the inferior of Mr. Roby, in every qualification which goes to make up the competent legislator.

Mr. Ephraim B. Harrold, one of the candidates for representative, is a successful farmer, of Wapello township, DeWitt county, who possesses the confidence of his neighbors in an eminent degree. He is at present a member of the board of supervisors of his county.

Dr. John H. Tyler, the other candidate for representatives, resides at Marion, DeWitt county, and is a practicing physician of character and standing.

He is an educated gentleman, and an active citizen, and those who know him best assert that he is exceptionally well qualified for the position.

The ticket is now complete, and there is no candidate upon it who is not worthy the support of every good citizen. Now let us go to work and elect the whole of it.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION.

We find that there is still much misunderstanding prevalent in regard to the method of voting for representatives under the system of minority representation, but one legislative election having been held since the new constitution, which embodies this system, was adopted. We submit a brief explanation of the manner of voting, under this system, promising, first, that the object of the plan is to give the political party that happens to be in the minority in every legislative district a proportional representation in the lower house of the general assembly. The State is divided into fifty-one legislative districts; each district is entitled to one senator and three representatives, the minority representation plan applying, of course to the election of the representatives only. Three representatives are to be elected, but the voter is not obliged to vote for three men, but can distribute, or concentrate three votes, as he pleases. For instance, he can cast one vote for each of three candidates, or one vote for one candidate and two for another, or one and one-half votes for one candidate and the same for another; or he can cast three votes for a single candidate. This last illustration is where the principle of minority representation applies most efficaciously. By this means the minority party in any district can always, by concentrating their strength on one candidate, providing they possess at least one-third the strength of the dominant party, elect one representative. The practical result, at the last legislative election, was that in districts having a Democratic majority, two Democrats and one Republican were elected to the lower house, and in districts having a Republican majority, two Republicans and one Democrat were elected. Thus the minority in a district are represented as well as the majority. In this district, composed of the counties of Macon and DeWitt, the Republicans elected Messrs. Moffett and Race, and the Democrats Mr. Lane.

To sum up, the constitution gives every man three votes for representatives. He can cast them all for one candidate, or divide them among three candidates, as he pleases, but in cases of fractional voting care must be taken that the sum total of the distributed vote does not exceed three.

RAILROADS.

In order that the products of the country may command their full value, it is essential that the facilities for transportation should be ample and reliable at the lowest possible rates, and legislation tending to promote these ends exercised within the constitutional powers of the States, and with a proper regard for the rights of all, is legitimate and expedient.

THE PANIC.

The serious blow which the commerce of the country suffered last year from causes which no administration could prevent, would have been fraught with greater disaster but for the confidence in Government securities, which the Republicans have established all over the world. The abundant harvests of Europe this year, and the general tendency toward caution and retrenchment may, for a time, retard the full revival of business, but no embarrassments affect trade which Democratic methods.

SPECIE PAYMENT.

We urge upon Congress the duty of promoting the recovery of business by the restoration of a sound condition of national finances, and, with that end in view, adopt legislative measures for resumption of specie payment and by persistence in revising and simplifying the revenue system.

Good Republican doctrine, and sound common sense. We endorse every word here quoted, and the people will endorse it at the polls.

New ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—Representatives of the Conservative party in Louisiana and of the Kellogg government, who have been in conference some days past, to-day announced an agreement, by the terms of which the Conservatives pledge themselves to cause violence and intimidation to cease throughout the State and assist the constituted authorities in maintaining peace and insuring strictly fair and impartial registration and election, and to use every effort to bring to justice those who attempt to use violence or make threats of personal violence to control elections. An advising committee of five persons is constituted, Dr. Voorhees, E. S. Burke being selected by the Conservative elements, B. Packard and B. F. Jouett by the Republicans, and Dr. M. F. Bonzans selected umpire by both parties jointly; this committee to supervise the registration throughout the State on behalf of all parties. Governor Kellogg pledges himself, of his own accord, to act upon the advice and suggestions of the Advisory Committee so long as such advice is legal. It is also agreed that two persons shall be named by representatives of the Conservative People's party, who shall be elected according to law, to fill the vacancies which shall be created in the Returning Board.

The political complexion of the Advisory Committee is Voorhees, last-pitch Democrat, Burke, Liberal Republican and avowed third-terminer, Packard, Jouett and Bonzans, federal officials. Conservatives generally think they have gained but little by the conference agreement. It is now stated that compromises will be made in every parish in the State by the Conservatives, similar to that recently effected in Terrebonne parish, dividing the offices equally between the colored Conservatives.

Let us examine a little further. By reference to the above it will be seen that the administrations of Van Buren, Monroe, Polk, Pierce, Buchanan, Taylor and Fillmore, cost more for current expenditures than Grant's for '73, while those of John Adams, Jefferson, Madison and Jackson's second term, were nearly the same with no extraordinary expenses.

Grant (including expenses growing out of his war) will be $1,000,000 less than '73 (deducting expenses growing out of the war).

Which is the best authority—one whose whole interest is to embitter and prejudice the people that he may secure votes, or one upon whose accuracy depends wholly the value of his contribution to the object entirely foreign to partisan politics?

According to Mr. Gore, $850 is the cost of our government in a time of profound peace, but, notwithstanding that he puts the expense 33 per cent. more than it actually is and conceals the fact that three-fourths of what is expended goes to pay interest on the expenditures to suppress the Democratic rebellion with which he was in full sympathy, and to pay the pensions of soldiers, their widows and children who were rendered sacred charges of the people by reason of that rebellion.

Gore says, "Adams closed his administration in 1828 at a cost of less than one dollar per capita; and at the close of Jackson's term of eight years in 1836, he had paid off the war debt of 1812 and had deposited $40,000,000 with the State Treasurers of the Union, at a cost to the people of only one dollar per capita. But in 1873, in a time of profound peace, the burden of taxation was about $8.50 per capita."

Professor E. B. Elliott, of Washington, recently read an important paper before the American Science Association, at Hartford, Ct., a paper prepared at great expenditure of time and labor to secure exactness, as upon that depended its value—a paper prepared for no political purpose, but as a contribution to science and knowledge, in which he gives the exact expenditure per capita of each administration from 1792 down to 1873, as follows:

Washington's first term $1,35,500
Washington's second term 1,00,400
Thomas Jefferson's first term 1,47,800
Thomas Jefferson's second term 1,17,800
Madison's second term (war period) 1,64,100
1810 8,65,600
Monroe's first term 1,38,600
Monroe's second term 1,38,600
Jackson's first term 1,40,500
Jackson's second term 1,29,000
Buren's 1,67,600
Buren and Tyler's 1,30,000
Polk's 1,59,100
Taylor and Fillmore's 1,59,100
Pierce's 2,33,400
Buchanan's 16,26,700
Lincoln and Johnson's (including expenses growing out of the war) 6,73,000
Grant (including expenses growing out of the war) 1,09,600

CITY DEPARTMENT.

A beautiful day.

Fresh Cranberries at Imboden's.

Five car loads of hogs went north to-day over the I. C. Road.

Daniel Moore, the cooper, is not troubled with a single care this morning. It's a girl, and weighs ten pounds.

For superb Java coffee go to Neidermeyer's.

Joe Ehrhart is busy painting a sign for Michl & Co.

Our Justices are just doing nothing, at present.

A force of painters, under the direction of A. C. Corrigan, are painting up Montgomery's residence, on the corner of North Main and Eudora streets.

J. Ulrich & Co. have a full line of sugars and syrups of the choicest grades.

Mr. Darius Sipe will soon move his furniture and household goods into his new house, just erected on the corner of West Main and Edward streets.

One car load of hogs came in over the Pekin road to-day en route for eastern markets.

Andy Keppler is at the top of the heap in the manufacture and sale of first-class cigars.

Geo. P. Hardy, Esq., our city regis- ter, has changed his place of residence from South Water street to the two-story dwelling on Cemetery street, formerly occupied by widow Imboden.

Kitchen's tea and coffee store is a novelty in Dugout, and is already attracting much attention and a large run of custom.

Old Jones, who abused Squire Hughes so yesterday, "lit out" just in time to avoid paying a fine. He claims that Hughes does not do him justice, and his next trial will come off before Squire Albert.

Mr. James Fisk, Son, father of the notorious Col. James Fisk, stopped at the Priest House last night. He is a robust looking gentleman, apparently about sixty years of age, and is exceedingly talkative. He left to-day on the train for the north. His present residence is in New York city.

A stone wall is to be laid on Merchant street in front of Palmer's cigar store. Much credit is due to the proprietors, Messrs. Milligan & Co., for moving in the matter. For the past year the walk has been a first-class nuisance.

Joseph Jones, Esq., has made his daughter present of a fine Burdett organ.

Bivins T. Lump has traded his 160 acres and the Bowzer place for Jason Rogers' residence south of town. The parties are reticent as to the terms of the trade.

Crothers & Deal are moving into the new brick. They will have a fine store.

There have been some very determined doubters about the Peoria, Atlanta & Decatur road ever being finished to Maroa, but the movements of the last two weeks leave no room for further doubt.

McCreary keeps a full supply of choice fruits and vegetables.

Three families of emigrants passed through here this morning, bound for the Hoosier State. They had been led by the glowing accounts of the "rich farming lands" in Nebraska to emigrate to that State. They now declare vehemently that they have seen enough of Nebraska, its "rich farming lands" and its grain-sheepers, for a while.

An old man by the name of George Hermitage, who already owes me "only" several fines, was put in the calaboose yesterday while beastly drunk. It is useless to fine him and put him in the calaboose for the purpose only of putting the city to expense; and it also seems useless to excommunicate him—he appears fixed in his ways, and all the remonstrances of his friends have no effect in keeping him sober.

We have given him up for gone; he is in jail now, and everybody knows it. The old man's drunk again.

At the grand ball in Turner Hall, on Monday night, a party of three Americans, who in company with about an equal number of Germans, had invited one of them to a party in the flowing bowl, got into a quarrel, and the Americans and Germans divided and soon prepared for a fight. Before the contending parties were drawn up in battle array one of the Americans had "tapped" the smeller of his German opponent, and caused the latter to draw somewhat. After a few passes the parties agreed to "draw all sorrows in the glass," and so the dancing proceeded without further interruption, and afterwards "all went merry as a marriage bell."

Religious.—Elder Wm. J. Davis, of Mattoon, who filled the pulpit of the Decatur (colored) Methodist church last year, came up from his present station, Mattoon, yesterday, and will preach at the colored M. E. Church this evening.

Go to J. J. Davis' stationary emporium for all goods in that line.

A Heavy Line of nickel-plated Travelling Bags, at Race's.

The Grocery Store of W. H. Reece, on North Water street, near the railroad, is well stocked with goods in that line, and the people living in that part of town will find it to their interest, as well as convenient, to do their trading here.

Persons wanted, to fill articles in the world. Address J. BRONSON, Decatur, Ill.

THE REINHART-HONNECKER WEDDING.

The Wisdom of Age United with the Virtue of Youth.

On yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, Mr. Julius Reinhart and Mrs. Sophia Honnecker, were joined in the bonds of wedlock at the Catholic church, by Rev. Father Hickey. On leaving the church the wedding party drove about town for a while, and then returned to the palatial residence of the bride on South Broadway, where a sumptuous dinner was spread upon tables decorated with flowers and other adornments. During the absence of the wedding party at the church, and on their wedding tour through town, a large number of invited guests assembled at the bride's home, where the dinner was to be served, and the reception held.
